South East LHIN Board of Directors announces new Board Member, Jo-Anne Brady

NEWS

Hersh Sehdev, Chair of the South East Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) Board of Directors, is pleased to announce the South East LHIN's newest board member, Jo-Anne Brady.

Appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council through a process administered by the Public Appointments Secretariat of the Province of Ontario, Ms. Brady will serve a three-year term, effective February 21, 2018.

A graduate of the University of Guelph (B.A. Psychology) and Queen's University (M.B.A.), Ms. Brady has spent most of her professional life in the post-secondary sector. After a long and distinguished career at Queen's, including almost 20 years as the University Registrar and Vice-Provost (Planning and Budgeting), Ms. Brady retired to the private sector as a higher education consultant. Until recently, she was a member of the Southern Frontenac Community Services Corporation Planning and Development Committee, and collaborated on the development of the organization's strategic plan focusing on the sustainable health and well-being of the community.

A skilled facilitator and moderator with an established track record of successful leadership in project and change management, she is recognized as a strong strategic planner with excellent relationship building and stewardship skills. She is always committed to finding solutions to complex challenges through innovative thinking and collaboration, and is acknowledged as a passionate champion for initiatives that better serve the community.

A resident of Harrowsmith in South Frontenac Township north of Kingston, Ms. Brady attends her first Board meeting on March 26, 2018.
